

MPM adds toppings of excellence and delivers in style

The goal to create the perfect dough, which in turn creates the perfect light, crispy pizza base, topped with authentic Italian combinations, then perfectly cooked to win the hearts and minds at the next family gathering. Delivita were driven to create a wood-fired oven, that was to be social, stylish and lightweight. What has been produced with the help of MPM is all of that and more, available in carefully selected colours together with an extensive range of accessories.

Scalable Quality for Global Demand

Collaborative Partnership

Design for full-scale production

Delivita are all about honest products and re-invigorating friends and family to come back to the table to eat together, so partnering up with MPM, a true family business, was a perfect way of realising their vision.

DESIGN, PROTOTYPE, MANUFACTURE

Having put a prototype and master mould together, Delivita were looking for a 'professional outfit' to be able to manufacture the quality product in quantities ready for the retail market. On talking to Hopkins, who supplied the heat resistance coating, they recommended MPM, who are located literally around the corner. When MPM, Delivita and Hopkins got together, it allowed our team to get a bigger picture of the project. With their comprehensive knowledge of GRP, they were able to make some suggestions, which have not only improved the result but also ensured that Hopkins can work on the oven without damaging the coating.

"It is fantastic to find such a professional and knowledgeable team with an amazing 'Can Do' attitude. Ben has helped pull us all together and with his ideas, business acumen and loyal team, my vision has come to life." "Ben has helped pull us all together and with his ideas, business acumen and loyal team, my vision has come to life. I cannot thank them enough. The team are quite often found at one of Delivita's events, and this engagement and mutual respect between client and supplier is something more than I could have wished for when I started."

Joe Formisano, Founder of Delivita

RENEWED PARTNERSHIP FOR A NEW PHASE OF GROWTH

Following a period of hiatus during a transitional phase in which Delivita was acquired by Gastronomy as a parent company, the business returned to MPM in 2025 to support the next stage of growth. With a renewed vision, expanded product scope, and rising demand across Europe and the U.S., including retail partnerships with major names like John Lewis, Delivita once again turned to MPM to manufacture and supply the signature GRP shells for their outdoor wood-fired pizza ovens. This continued partnership reflects both the trust built over years of collaboration and MPM's ability to scale with quality for a growing global market.

"MPM consistently delivers exceptional fiberglass shells for our pizza ovens. Their craftsmanship, durability and attention to detail are second to none. Reliable lead times and outstanding customer service make them an invaluable partner. Thanks to MPM our ovens look professional, perform flawlessly, and exceed customer expectations every time."

Alex Shannon
Managing Director
Delivita

THE CHALLENGE

Deliver a high-quality, scalable GRP shell for a growing international market

THE VALUE WE ADDED

Collaborative design input and flexible, retail-ready GRP manufacturing

THE BENEFIT TO THE CUSTOMER

Enabled Delivita to scale globally with a consistent, premium product